CALL FOR PROPOSALS

Do you have something you could share about teaching and/or working with ESL students and their families that has been successful in your classroom, your school or your school district? If so, please consider submitting a proposal to make a presentation at the Conference.

We are especially (but not exclusively) interested in successful examples of collaboration between content and ESL teachers, the application of content based language learning and the SIOP model in your classrooms.

If your proposal is submitted prior to March 5, 2010, notification will be sent out by March 15.

Upon the Conference Committee receiving your acceptance of the invitation to present, you will be registered for the Conference and you will not be charged a registration fee.

Email your proposal to Jessica Braine,
