Ohio TESOL Graduate Research Symposium

Agenda

June 7, 2025

Time	Presenter	Topic
10:00am – 10:05am	Aaron Schwartz, Higher Ed. Interest Section Representative; Other Ohio TESOL board members	Opening Remarks
10:05am – 10:35am	Hyunjoo Moon, Ohio University	AI integration in South Korean K-12 English Education and the Role of Communities of Practice
10:40am – 11:10am	Mohammed Ghazwani, University of Findlay	Exploring the Impact of Linguistic Interference on Syntactic Accuracy in Writing Errors Among Saudi EFL Learners
11:10am – 11:40am	Hany Abdelmoula, Ohio University	Acquisition of American English Co-Speech Gestures by L2 Speakers: Expressing Existential Negation
11:40am – 12:10pm	Hikari Jonathan Tsukabayashi, University of Findlay	Case Study: Effective Feedback for ESL Academic Writing Program
12:10pm – 12:15pm	Ohio TESOL board members	Closing remarks

This year, recordings of the participants' presentations will be shared with Ohio TESOL, an outstanding contribution will be rewarded with an invite to present at the Ohio TESOL conference in Fall.

Ohio TESOL requests that you help us spread the word about this exciting opportunity among your students and colleagues. If you have any further questions or comments, please do not hesitate to contact us at ohiotesol@gmail.com.

If you would like to attend the online zoom meeting, please fill out this form in order to receive a zoom invite: https://forms.gle/uysH6ENUuGqv3hMU7